

Information Resources

On-Board Systems For members who are interested in learning a bit about some of the on-board systems on an RV, this site <http://www.rvrepairmanual.com/> can prove interesting. Read the last section on DSI furnaces to get an understanding of how the furnace operates and what can be done if it malfunctions. (Bruce & Rosemary Monte) (#6, 09/04)

WI-FI Hotspots? Go to <http://www.wififreespot.com/rv.html> .

Towing Tips - Many of us tow a car behind your Alfa. We suggest you visit Towing World's web site (_____) and review one or more of their topics:

- Backing Up a Towed Vehicle
- Baseplate Installation Tips
- Them's The Brakes
- Delivering The Goods
- Towing Physics 101
- Overcoming Wiring Gremlins
- Steering Controls
- Tow Bars Wear Out (#11, 12/05)

Camping guides Here is a list of a few Camping Guides you may find of interest (#12/04/06)

- www.TravelBooksUSA.com
- Casino Camping - nearly 300 RV-Friendly casinos throughout America are listed. (There are also a variety of printed books available on-line and in many stores as well as apps do download for your smart phone or tablet.)
- RV Camping in State Parks - Over one thousand state parks and recreation areas in 49 states. (You can also search on-line, download an app as well as look for a variety of printed books with the same information.)
- Coleman National Forest Campground & Recreation Directory. - This comprehensive 621-page directory includes every National Forest campground, nationwide.
- National Park Service Camping Guide - Inside you'll find detailed campground information such as number of sites, season of operation, camping fees, RV length limits, and a list of amenities available at each campground.